on the Status of Women in Librarianship. It will be held on Saturday, July 6, from 2-4 p.m., and will feature a film on sexual harassment. Kathleen Prendergast will moderate a panel discussion after the film. Speaking on the panel will be Diana Rock, chair of the Women's Committee of AFSCME, the cartoonist Nicole Hollander, and others.

A poster session has also been slated for the conference on organizing a union. This will be a practical approach to union organizing in the library setting and will outline the steps necessary to form a union, such as knowledge of labor legislation, how to contact a union,
