FLEXTIME POLICY Updated 3/12/07

where performance or productivity is not satisfactory. Appeals of such decisions

- should be referred to the appropriate Department Head.
- D. New employees should be adequately trained and have completed 60 days of work before receiving approval to work flextime, unless the immediate supervisor is also on such a schedule; or if flextime is negotiated as part of the hiring process. Employees requiring close supervision are restricted to working only those hours when supervision is available.
- E. Costs to the association cannot increase as a result of this policy.
- F. In the event that granting multiple flextime requests would leave the unit understaffed, seniority will determine who gets first choice on a schedule request. However, seniority may not be used to "bump" another employee already using a flextime schedule nor can an employee who elects to further their education "bump" another employee already working under a flextime agreement.
- G. The Association reserves the right to modify or eliminate the Program at anytime.

PROCEDURE

Employees must complete a Flextime Agreement Form and (c)-0.956417(t)-2.53658995247.956417(t)
